NEW IRON BRIDGE.

Large Attendance at Louisa Circuit Court. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LOUISA, May 15.—The contract for the new iron bridge, with concrete pillars, to connect Orange and Louisa counties at Ellis's Mills, was yesterday awarded to the Virginia Bridge and Iron Company, of Roanoke, Va., the cost to be borne of Roanoke, Va., the cost to be borne one-half by each county.

Yesterday the largest crowd that has been in Louisa for some time attended court, this being the first term of courtience January last. Yesterday and today the time of the court has been occupled in trying the liquor cases, one of which is the case of John Evans, which came up before a United States commissioner in Richmond last month. Much interest is felt, as it is thought that these trials will go far towards closing the blind tigers in this "dry county." The docket is long, and it is thought that Judge Grimsley will extend the term of the court to the end of the week.

James Le Shelton and B. Ran, Wellford, of Richmond, are here, interested of the court to the end of the week.

James Le Shelton and E. Ran. Wellford, of Richmond, are here, interested in the case of Wiltshire vs. the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The demand for building sites still continues, and the Episcopal Church has decided to sell its valuable holdings to the east of the church, to be converted into dwelling lots.

The Odd-Fellows will observe Decoration Day by a parade, in which will join the Rebekahs, after which the graves in the different cemeteries will be decorated.

CASE AFTER CASE

Plenty More Like This in Rich-

Scores of Richmond people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement? J. S. Good, retired farmer, of 917 West Main Street, says: "For twenty years I have had attacks of lameness and sore. ness across the small of my back; sometimes I was hardly able to get up or down from a chair, and when I stooped or made any sudden or awkward movement when the attacks were in the acute stage the sharp twinses across the loins fairly made me groan. The secretions from the kidneys being highly colored, irregular and too frequent in action, particularly so when I contracted a cold. compelled me finally to consult a physician. I also used more than one standard remedy and wore plasters, but I met with very indifferent success until I went to Owens & Minor's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be just what I required. Undoubted results followed the treatment very promptly, and when I had completed it the aching disappeared and the kidney secretions resumed their ordinary condition."

CHESTER CAPTURES THE HIGH SCHOOL

Other Districts Given Concessions if They Pay Their Share,

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHESTERFIELD, VA., May 15.—In answer to the county school superintendent's call to the school board and invitation to all other interested citizens, about forty substantial and representative Chester of the county of the count terfieldians gathered to-day at the court house to discuss the feasability of estab-lishing a high school for the county. The State superintendent of public instruc-tion, Mr. Eggleston, was among the in-vited who came from outside the county and he early in the meeting addressed the body of men in the interests of better schools and in explanation of the proschools and in explanation of the pro-visions of law for the assistance and maintenance of high schools, making by his clear and forceful talk a fine impres-sion on his audience.

A delegation from Chester, headed by Rev. C. N. Friend, came loaded with in-ducements for the location at Chester of a high school, backed by substantial sub-scriptions amounting really to the erec-tion and equipment of an extra room to be attached to the present public school building at that place, without cost to the county, and by co-operation with Dale District, captured the State emoluments coming to this county in the pro-posed new branch of its educational work.

It was practically agreed that what is cuiled a third grade high school be established at Chester for the present, with one teacher in addition to the two ulemployed there, the school to be in the main for the benefit of the two districts, Bermuda and Dale, though con-cessions will be made to all the other districts, with the understanding that the other districts may by appropriations from other districts may by appropriations from their several funds share equally in the high school privileges at any future time, Mr. Eggleston in his address spoke most flatteringly of Chesterfield's future, and declared that by reason of its location and peculiar and varied advantages it was destined to become one of the foremost counties of the State within a com-paratively short time.

One of the strongest evidences of the county's advancement along general line is the decided interest taken in late years in good roads and educational work.
